Sanctuary Recovery Center
Residential Substance Use Treatment for Teenage Girls

Remote Location in Trabuco Canyon, CA

Sanctuary Recovery Center (SRC) is part of Vera's Sanctuary for Women (VSW), which is a subsidiary of The Teen Project, Inc. SRC is a 6-bed, short-term residential treatment program for young women ages 15 to 17. Our clients must have a primary Substance Use Disorder (SUD), and they may also have co-occurring mental health conditions. Our program can provide healing and hope for female youth who have been in out-of-home placement (e.g., foster care); have been abused, neglected, and/or abandoned; have been victims of sex trafficking (Commercially Sexually Exploited Children); are pregnant; are gang-involved; are runaways; and/or are homeless. SRC is a Drug Medi-Cal (DMC) program funded through the Orange County Health Care Agency, Mental Health and Recovery Services. We work with our clients to assess their strengths and needs across all major life areas (e.g., substance use, physical and mental health, education, family support, living environment, etc.) then provide individualized treatment to help them work toward their self-identified goals.

Clients are expected to participate in the following elements of treatment:

- ✓ Detoxification (if needed)
- ✓ 6 to 8 hours of individual and/or group therapy per day
- ✓ Drug testing twice per week
- ✓ Individual counseling twice per week, as well as family counseling/support as appropriate
- ✓ Personalized treatment plans that include substance use/relapse prevention, medical, mental health, educational, legal, family, and aftercare/vocational goals
- ✓ Participation in school 2 hours per day, 5 days per week with the support of a credentialed teacher
- ✓ Emotional expression through music and art
- ✓ Aftercare/permanency planning

Therapeutic Curriculum:

SRC uses several evidence-based practices during individual and group therapy, including:

- Stages of Change Model
- Motivational Interviewing
- Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT)
- Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT)
- Family Systems Theory
- 12-step model (AA/NA)
- Relapse Prevention

These interventions are designed to help our clients reduce impulsivity, develop effective coping skills to manage intense emotions and high-risk-for relapse situations, learn effective problem-solving and communication skills, and improve interpersonal relationships.

Our campus is a gated community with security cameras and 24/7 staffing to ensure the safety of our clients.

Engagement Spectrum - A Shift In Power!

Shifting Power
Inform	Consult	Involve	Collaborate	Empower
Orient community members to the decisions we have made and changes that are coming	Invite community members to provide feedback on our plans before we make final decisions	Community members are engaged at every step of the process from developing a shared vision or priorities, to exploring options and giving input on decisions	Community members are full partners in our effort, have decision making authority, and are partners in implementing solutions	Community members are sole decision makers. They decide our role and how we can best support.
We will keep you informed	We will listen to your feedback, and let you know how it shaped our decisions	You will walk with us and advise us at every step of the process	We will co-create and co-produce solutions with you.	We will follow your lead.
Fliers, newsletters, websites, open houses	Surveys, focus groups, meetings and forums	Community organizing, facilitated workshops and meetings	Advisory boards, seats on governing boards, contract community members	Support and follow leadership and governance
