Orange County “Good Will” Program

Santa Ana, Calif. (November 9, 2018) — Does your small company, large business, school, individual philanthropy, faith organization, community group or government enterprise deserve special recognition from the County of Orange?

The Orange County Human Relations Commission just unveiled a new exciting program to spotlight the good work of numerous OC enterprises – from one-person operations to large corporations. They are interested in publicly honoring different groups that have reflected significant progress in improving human relationships and effective communication in the workplace environment. This includes minimizing or eliminating bias and discrimination around disability, gender, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, age, and financial position.

They are particularly interested in acknowledging special programs that promote the health, welfare and human rights of all Orange County residents.
